

live.
work.
expand
your opportunities.

Position:	Internist
Specialty:	General Internal Medicine
Health Authority:	Stanton Territorial Hospital
Location:	Yellowknife, NWT
Cultural Description	First Nations, Inuit, Non-Aboriginal
Practice Description:	Varied outpatient practice including opportunities for GI endoscopy, bronchoscopy, stress testing, and echocardiography. Call includes ICU coverage, consultation to our robust GP-hospitalist service, and questions from remote community practitioners. Excellent relationships with Edmonton for rapid cath lab access, and subspecialist phone advice. Local expertise available 24/7 for general surgery, anaesthesia (including intubation support) and radiology. Clinical services are supported by specially trained nurse practitioners in ICU, renal care, gastroenterology, and diabetes programs. Special skill sets are welcomed and active program development is encouraged – whether in tuberculosis, remote medicine, diabetes, etc. Travel clinics are a valued part of our practice – keeping us grounded in remote health centre realities and providing a window on traditional Inuit and Dene lifestyles.
Staff Description:	A collegial group of specialists, with GPs performing most routine inpatient care
Call Arrangements:	1:4
Qualifications (Required/Preferred)	NWT medical license, FRCP(C), LMCCI & II, Unrestricted and active medical license in another Canadian Jurisdiction
Compensation:	The specialist contract features: a guaranteed 40 hr work week, recruitment bonus and relocation assistance, annual retention bonuses, CME allowances and leave, enhanced benefit plan including generous parental leave.
Additional:	Stanton Territorial Hospital has 21 salaried Specialist positions. We provide services to the residents of the Northwest Territories and several Nunavut communities.
Contact:	Cammy Mailloux, Medical Affairs Coordinator Stanton Territorial Hospital Toll free: 1-866-389-3149 Local: 867-669-4379 Fax: 867-669-4218 cammy_mailloux@gov.nt.ca